Idebenone Complex Skincare Superceuticals®

The First Antioxidant To Fight Both Internal & External Ageing!

Introducing Idebenone Complex (Hydroxydecyl Ubiquinoyl Dipalmitoyl Glycerate), a new improvement in the PRIORI® Idebenone Superceuticals® technology, modified for better delivery, improved results and enhanced skin compatibility. The most advanced anti-ageing skincare molecule discovered to date is the foundation for PRIORI®'s clinically proven Idebenone formulas, delivering a whole new level of skin rejuvenation and protection against premature skin ageing. PRIORI® Superceuticals® helps correct the signs of skin ageing, reduces the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles, evens skin tones and texture, brightens and restores youthful radiance, and protects against environmental stress better than any other antioxidant in the market with the highest EPF® (Environmental Protection Factor®) rating of 95+!

Cosmeceuticals are products that impart a visible lasting difference in the skin; i.e., they are based on ingredients that do more than cover up, fill in and hide. Cosmeceuticals function is to help cells improve beneficial skin metabolic pathways and/or inhibit age-related pathways. Superceuticals® are multifunctional cosmeceuticals that take anti-ageing skincare to the next level! Idebenone Complex is such a compound.

Ageing is the result of damage caused to cells by oxidative stress (free radicals) that comes from two primary sources:

1. Internal Sources of Free Radicals: intrinsic ageing, including free radicals generated by the mitochondria, where the natural process by which our cells make energy occurs.
2. External Sources of Free Radicals: extrinsic ageing, damage caused by the environment such as sunlight (UV radiation), air pollution, ozone, cigarette smoke, etc.

For the first time, we have an antioxidant so unique, it addresses the very essence of cellular ageing at its source – free radicals produced by cellular metabolism! no other antioxidant fights environmental free radicals better than Idebenone.
